SEVEN CENTS

WHILE YOU'RE SMILING—today, that is, take time out to remember St. Patrick, the Irish, the wearin' of the green and the grand old customs of St. Pat's Day. Because Stroudsburg's own George Graff wrote the words to this enchanting tune, we chose it to illustrate the good times and the sentiment of the Irish "great day." But just to prove that St. Patrick's Day is a day when everyone smiles, we asked charming and lovely Marilyn Pettinato to pose for our picture.

Explosions Rock Centers In South

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A dynamite explosion which woke sleepers for miles around shifted walls of a southwest Miami Jewish center from their foundations early yesterday.

Only hours later, a similar explosion at Nashville, Tenn., smashed open the front door of the Jewish Community Center there.

There were no injuries in either explosion. Damage at Miami was at least $30,000. Tentative estimates set damage at Nashville at $6,000.

Former Premier Issues Warning

HAVANA (AP)—Former Premier Andres Rivero Aguiar told Cubans yesterday they would have only a passport to dictatorship if rebel violence blocks the June 1 presidential election.

He said President Batista would continue in power in that event because only a dictatorship headed by Batista "will be able to maintain order to prevent barbarism from erasing all vestiges of civilization."

Sumatra Wins Battle For Medan

SINGAPORE (AP)—Troops in North Sumatra turned on the Jakarta government yesterday and seized the big military center of Medan in seven hours of heavy fighting, rebel broadcasts said.

If confirmed, this may mean the swing of all North Sumatra to the rebels in Central Sumatra, as the revolutionary regime has been predicting.

Medan was the Jakarta government's only major stronghold in Sumatra. The city of 260,000 is believed to have been the launching point for last week's airborne attack by government forces on the rich oil center of Pekanbaru in Central Sumatra.

Broadcasts from the Central Sumatran cities of Padang and Bukittinggi said Medan fell at noon and that 2,000 troops led by U. S.-trained Maj. Boyke Naim Golan were in full control by nightfall.

The Medan garrison was composed of Sumatran troops and soldiers from Java, site of Jakarta, the capital. The Sumatran troops rose up against the outnumbered Javanese, rebel accounts said.

Boyke and other insurgent officers were awaiting the arrival at Medan of the revolutionary regime's foreign minister, Col. Madulin Simbolin, to hand over control, the broadcasts said.

Reports reaching Singapore said Boyke's troops attacked the Medan airport at dawn and swept down on barracks and army posts occupied by Javanese troops loyal to President Sukarno in Jakarta. Heavy machine gun fire raked the big city's streets. The number of casualties was not given.

Millions Vote In Russian Elections

MOSCOW (AP)—Millions of citizens turned out yesterday for parliamentary elections to the blare of martial music and get-out-the-vote slogans booming over loud speakers.

Citizens over 18 years of age lined up at polling stations to cast their ballot for the Supreme Soviet, Russia's two-house parliament.

They did not even have to fill out the ballot. The voter was handed a ballot from an election official after having his name checked from a master roster.

Large Box
Then he folded the ballot and deposited it in a large box. Each polling station contains a closed booth where citizens who wish can cross off the name of the party-selected candidate and substitute another. These booths get little use.

The sun shone brightly in Moscow and by 2 p.m. 95.4 per cent of the eligible voters had done their duty. Similar reports came from other parts of the Soviet Union.

Each ballot carries the name of only one candidate. Candidates were selected at pre-election meetings. There are 1,378 candidates for the same number of seats.

About 130 million citizens were expected to vote. Soviet officials say this is 99.8 per cent of the eligible voters.

The Communist party newspaper Pravda said the elections were "a new and striking demonstration of the great strength of the Soviet Socialist democracy."

"This strength," said Pravda, "lies in the fact that Socialist democracy has rid the Soviet people of such freedoms as the right to choose its exploiters and to be unemployed and to the right to die of starvation or to be hired slave of capital."

Smith Hurls Charge At Department
HARRISBURG (AP)—Auditor General Charles C. Smith contends the Revenue Department is getting up new jobs for Democratic party workers by assessing inheritance tax receipts in advance.

Smith, a Republican, said local registers of wills have been required to pay $44,968 into a special fund for the administration of inheritance taxes before forwarding their tax collections to Harrisburg.

But Vincent G. Panati, secretary of revenue, declared the Smith statement does "not jibe with the facts."

Statement
"Had the General Assembly seen fit to give the Department of Revenue the moneys requested for General Fund operations, perhaps it would not have been necessary to establish this state-wide collection staff with headquarters in Harrisburg," Panati said in a statement.

Smith said the staff is assessing the inheritance taxes before they are paid into the State Treasury.

Panati said the procedure "is perfectly legal, as he Smith knows."

Every facet of this function was cleared and approved by both the Justice Department and the Office of Administration before being put into effect by the department of revenue," Panati added.

Guidance 'Full-Time' Job

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is one of a series of articles on Monroe County education. Each will be based on the results of the county-wide survey conducted by the author for The Daily Record.)

By Leonard Randolph
NO MATTER which label we give it, "guidance" in the schools is a "full-time" job. The Daily Record survey shows that classroom teachers are just about evenly-split in their opinion on who should give guidance to the pupil.

Some of them feel that, at least in elementary, guidance should remain with the classroom teacher who serves as a kind of moderator between the child, his home, the school and his changing environment and interests.

Others feel that full-time guidance counseling should be the job of a man or woman hired and trained especially for that function.

But all of them agree that it doesn't matter who guides the child, it is still something which goes on, day after day, throughout the pupil's educational career.

In the classroom, for example, the job of guiding the student is an integral part of his instruction. To a good teacher, a substantial portion of the challenge in a gifted student is in finding his needs, giving him the proper material to work with and in channeling his energies and talents in the right direction. One misconception on the public's part in the field of "guidance" appears to be in interpretation of the word. Although some parents tend to look upon guidance merely as "advice" based on "scientific" testing, it is, obviously, far more than this.

In the elementary level, certainly, the teacher "guides" without recourse to tests on a daily, classroom basis. Recognizing talent in one child or seeking to find a hidden talent in another, the "guidance" she gives is not in "telling the child what he should do" but in helping him to find what he really enjoys doing and wants to do.

When the student reaches a point in his school life where it is desirable or even necessary that he think in terms of a life-work, it is the consensus among local educators that a trained and qualified guidance supervisor can do a better job than a group of teachers in helping the child to find the way he must take.

Monroe County boards of education appear reluctant to accept the need for full-time guidance in the schools. In some districts administrators show a similar reluctance.

Both Parties Certain Of Competition

HARRISBURG (AP)—The lists close today for candidates at the May 20 primary election in Pennsylvania with strong indications pointing to contests in both Republican and Democratic parties for the nomination for governor and other statewide offices.

The Democratic organization has entered a slate of candidates headed by Mayor David L. Lawrence, Pittsburgh, for governor, and Gov. George M. Leader for U.S. Senator.

The Republican organization is backing a slate topped with Arthur T. McConkie, Reading, for governor, and Rep. Hugh D. Scott, Philadelphia, for U.S. Senator.

Stassen Slate
But Lt. Gov. Roy E. Furman, Democrat, and Harold E. Stassen, Republican, each seeking the gubernatorial nomination, have promised to put up a full ticket, of running mates to oppose the organization tickets.

There are, in addition, other independent candidates on the Republican side but none, so far, for Democratic nomination for state wide offices.

They are William S. Livingood Jr., former secretary of Internal Affairs, and Harold J. Vaughan, Beaver County sales executive for governor, and Sen. Rowland B. Mahony, GOP Senate leader, for lieutenant governor.

Livingood said he had been approached by both the GOP organization and Stassen forces to withdraw his candidacy for another spot but had refused all offers of compromise and would stay in the race. Mahony also said he was in the fight to the finish.

On the Democratic side, Furman said that Sen. Joseph M. Barr, Democratic state chairman, and other party leaders, have made "strenuous efforts" to get him out of the race. They would "know by now their arguments have not impressed me," Furman said in a weekend statement.

The Republican organization candidates filed their nominating petitions Saturday. Petitions for the Democratic organization slate will file their petitions Monday.

McConkie said the GOP organization candidates would conduct "a hard-hitting campaign" and would visit each of the 67 counties in the state. They will attend a breakfast of the Pennsylvania Council of Republican Women Monday at Washington and will open their campaign Tuesday at Allentown.

Furman and Stassen also promised to file petitions of their running mates today.

Furman slate—Former U. S. Atty. Gen. James P. McGranery, Philadelphia, for U. S. Senator; Wilbur E. Culbertson, Clarion County, for lieutenant governor, and Michael A. Cannan, Erie, for secretary of Internal Affairs.

Stassen slate—Weidon B. Hays, former auditor general and former state treasurer, or Rep. John P. Saylor, Johnstown, for U. S. senator; Frank C. Hilton, Reading, former national commander of the veterans of foreign wars, for lieutenant governor, and Sen. Albert R. Pechar (R-Armstrong) for secretary of Internal Affairs.

Want Ads Work Sooner Or Later

A Liberty, Ky. woman couldn't find her lawnmower so she put a Lost ad in the Casey County News. No response. A few days later she decided to place a For Sale ad to dispose of a pile of lumber behind her home.

When the lumber was moved, there was the missing lawnmower. Whatever you wish to find, move or sell, a Want Ad is the quick-easy way to do it.

Irish Surge Around De Valera In London

LONDON (AP)—A hostile crowd of Irishmen surged around Irish Premier Eamon De Valera, a visitor to London, and rocked his car as he drove to Mass on the eve of St. Patrick's Day.

Spurred on by green-tinted leaders, several hundred persons milled around a narrow street in the Bohemian Soho district shouting slogans supporting the Irish Republican Army—the anti-British guerrilla organization De Valera has outlawed.

Mounted police and patrolmen struggled to clear a way to St. Patrick's Irish church on Soho Square. Several demonstrators were bundled into a police truck.

Demonstrators smashed bottles and pounded on the vehicle's sides and women shook their fists at the stolid-faced driver.

Outside the church, about 1,000 persons packed the little square to watch De Valera arrive for the traditional St. Patrick's Eve ceremony of blessing and distributing shamrocks.

The majority of this crowd was friendly.

A few shouts of "string him up" and "get him to the lamp post" mingled with cheers when the Premier emerged after the 90-minute service.

A shower of pro-IRA leaflets fluttered down on the crowd as De Valera climbed into his car.

Earlier, about 100 demonstrators paraded outside the Irish Embassy during a reception for De Valera. The crowd shook fists and yelled for the release of IRA men jailed in Ireland. They were dispersed after about 10 minutes by armed police.

De Valera is here for a three-day visit.

The New York-born Irish leader told reporters that, although his government strongly desires union between the Irish Republic and British-controlled Northern Ireland, "force is not the way to get it."

NATO Works On Plan For Cooperation

BONN, Germany (AP)—Lawmakers from NATO nations assembled in Bonn yesterday to draft a plan for greater scientific cooperation among alliance members to meet the Soviet technical challenge.

Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn) said four major proposals are on the agenda for the two-day meeting of the Standing Committee of the NATO Parliamentarians. Meetings open today.

He said these are:
1. A program for stepping up the exchange of scientific information among North Atlantic Treaty Organization nations.

Scholarships
2. A broad system of scholarships, particularly in science, to be financed by a NATO organization.

Appointment of a citizens conference composed of leading private citizens to suggest ways of bringing about closer cooperation among the 15 NATO nations.

A major congress in 1959, the 10th anniversary of NATO, to discuss ways of bringing the means of NATO home to every citizen in all allied countries.

All sessions of the Parliamentarians will be closed and there will be no communication when the meetings end Tuesday.

Panel Discussion
However, there will be a panel discussion open to the public at Bonn University Tuesday. The President of the parliamentarians, J. F. Fens of the Netherlands will speak, as will Kefauver.

Kefauver is not a member of the parliamentarians' committee. He is here in his capacity as chairman of the Political Committee. The U. S. member on the standing committee is Rep. Hays (D-Ohio).

On hand besides Hays are parliamentarians from Britain, France, Belgium, West Germany, Greece, Italy, Luxembourg, Norway, the Netherlands and Turkey.

Shotgun Blasts End Four Lives On Pennsylvania Farm

BUTLER (AP)—A blazing shotgun ended the lives of four persons yesterday on the Dale Graff farm in a rural area of Butler County about 12 miles south of this western Pennsylvania community.

The dead were identified as: Dale Graff, about 40, owner of the farm, his wife Margie, George Reed, 70, a hired hand and Donald McCamey, 21, who had lived on the farm and worked there since he was eight.

Capt. E. L. Fontaine of the Pennsylvania state police said "all evidence indicates McCamey shot the others and then shot himself. We are proceeding on that theory."

Fist Fight
Fontaine said Graff and McCamey had a fist fight last week and after the tussle ended Graff told McCamey he would have to leave the farm. It was not learned what touched off the fight.

Police said that McCamey still was living on the farm when the shooting started.

Mrs. Graff was found face down on her bed with two charges from a shotgun in her body. Graff was found dead in the cow barn. He also had been shot twice. Reed was found dead in a corn crib. He was shot once.

McCamey died in Butler County Memorial Hospital shortly after he was admitted. He was shot in the head.

McCamey, police said, was sent to the Graff home from Butler County Juvenile Home.

Irish Parade For St. Pat

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Some 40,000 marchers, braving a brisk March wind, tramped up Philadelphia's South Broad St. yesterday in the annual St. Patrick's Day parade.

An estimated 75,000 lined the streets and cheered to the lilt of Irish music and laughter. A snappy breeze whipped the flags and green pennants.

The traditional bounce of the pipers' calling and the string bands' strumming was in spirited evidence in "McNamara's Band" and other lighthearted Irish tunes.

Gray Day
It was a cool and gray day, but such tunes as "Harrigan," "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling," and, of course, "It's A Great Day for the Irish" brought the warmth of the green to the air.

Lending official touches to the parade were Mayor Richardson Dilworth, Gov. George M. Leader and the Rt. Rev. Msgr. John F. Stokes, pastor of St. Peter's Church, Drogheda County, Ireland, evacuated.

Fulbright Seeks Public Works Loans

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark) proposed yesterday in one of a series of congressional antirecession moves a two-billion-dollar program of public works loans to states and cities to create jobs.

At the same time, Sen. Knowland of California, the Senate's Republican leader, announced he probably will seek to amend foreign aid legislation to curb mutual security purchases abroad and channel a substantial amount of them into U. S. industry.

Chairman Bridges (NH) of the Senate Republican Policy Committee called on President Eisenhower to reverse a trend he said has boosted overseas purchases of nonmilitary items to 45 per cent of the amount spent under the mutual security program.

Support
Sen. Monroney (D-Okla.), announcing support of Fulbright's proposal, joined with Sens. Magnuson (D-Wash) and Payne (R-Maine) in proposing legislation to provide 75 million dollars for emergency construction of airports, plus an increase from 63 million dollars to 100 million annually for the next four years in such funds.

Monroney said a speedup in airport construction is "vital" needed not just to fight increasing unemployment but to be prepared for the jet age in aviation.

Fulbright announced that he, Monroney, and Sens. Sparkman (D-Ala.) and Proxmire (D-Wis.) will offer Monday a bill to jack up to two billion dollars the present 100-million-dollar lending authority of the Community Facilities Administration, a part of the Housing and Home Finance Administration.

Fulbright proposed that CFA be authorized to loan money at about three per cent for 50 years to states and their subdivisions to step up the construction of streets, sidewalks, roads, bridges, waterworks, parking lots, recreational facilities, hospitals, sewage systems, schools and libraries.

Reply
"It's for Mr. Khrushchev to answer," the ambassador replied, adding his personal view that if Khrushchev is invited, he will certainly come.

Neither Menshikov nor his questioner was specific whether the meeting would be a summit session involving leaders of other nations or merely an Eisenhower-Khrushchev get-together.

The prospects for a summit conference had been discussed. Menshikov was asked if it would be a good idea to bypass the United Nations with a summit conference. He replied it would, because he said experience has shown that negotiations within the U.N. oftentimes did not produce proper results.

Jesus Loved Them

Happy Children Always Gathered Around Jesus During His Teaching Trips On Earth

Child In The Midst

"And Jesus called a little child unto him, and set him in the midst of them."
—Matthew XVIII:2

By Patrick and Harrison
THERE were always children about Jesus, chattering in happiness and darting through the crowds to His side, as the birds in the garden of Gethsemane that often punctuated His thoughts.

The grown men who had chosen to follow in the way of the Nazarene tried always to shoo them away, for their young minds did not dwell on the word of Jesus; but their hearts were glad in His presence.

And time after time Jesus rebuked His followers, saying: "Suffer little children, and forbid them not, to come unto me: for of such is the kingdom of heaven." The kingdom of heaven like unto a child's world?

Yes, a world in which each dawn is a new beginning, the frustrations, disappointments and tears of yesterday forgotten. A world of venture, each happy task helped by angel hands.

So, calling this child to Him, Jesus smiled down into the bright eyes of trust, as He caressed the wind-tossed hair. And looking up into the face of the kind Man from Judea, the child listened strangely to His words, as if entranced.

"Verily I say unto you, Except ye be converted, and become as little children, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven."

To some men God is a possession, to others a desire. To some He is a Benefactor (who answers the requests they make), or a judge and tyrant. But always the God of man is the will of man.

To a child in its innocence and in its feeling, God is the rustle of a mother's skirt in the dream-troubled darkness, and her soothing hands. He is the promise of awakening after the night's sleep, the radiant happiness of a gift — a new toy.

In a word, for the child, God is love. And only through love, the Evangelist tells us, can we know God.

Still regarding the large eyes fastened upon His own with quiet confidence, Jesus told His disciples:

"Whoever therefore shall humble himself as this little child, the same is greatest in the kingdom of heaven."

Far East

Secretary of State Dulles, in leaving for a 14-day visit to the Far East, declined to comment. But, he said the White House probably would make an initial reply soon.

Authorities who studied it said the nine proposals advanced by Bulganin were virtually a word-for-word reiteration of the seven the State Department turned down in a formal diplomatic note yesterday.

Bulganin resubmitted these nine proposals already branded unacceptable as topics for a summit parley:

1. Immediate halting of nuclear tests; 2. banning nuclear weapons; 3. creating an atom-free zone in Central Europe; 4. an East-West nonaggression pact; 5. reducing the number of foreign troops in Germany and Europe; 6. an agreement to prevent sudden attack by either side; 7. increasing East-West trade; 8. an end to propaganda; 9. moves to reduce Middle East tensions.

Cindy's Disappearance Causes Change In South Sterling's Daily Community Life

SOUTH STERLING — Every morning for months Cindy and Hammer have gone out for early morning walks together.

The two have been inseparable. And, to the neighbors here, they had become as much a part of community life and charm as the snow-covered fields and the changing seasons.

Cindy was only about a year old. Hammer's age is not presently known. Both of them are dogs.

Cindy belongs to Mr. and Mrs. Carl Smith and their son, Douglas, 11. Hammer is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith and their children who live across the road. The two Smiths are brothers.

Everything was going along beautifully until last Thursday. That's the day Cindy, the beautiful, silver-grey German Shepherd, was last seen.

No one knows what happened to her. Members of the family first noticed something was wrong when Cindy and Hammer failed to make their early morning constitutional together.

Hammer showed up that morning. But Cindy did not.

At first the family thought nothing about it. Cindy would probably come home, sooner or later, they felt.

But as time wore on, they became more worried. Now they're offering a reward for information concerning the dog or her return to them.

Meanwhile, Hammer's Beagle and Bassett Hound heart is breaking. He hasn't stopped crying and whining since the day Cindy went away.

"Get along home, Cindy" wherever you may be.

Yetter To File Petition For Party Chairmanship

VAN D. YETTER will file a petition this morning for chairmanship of the Monroe County Democratic Committee.

The party chairmanship is a non-paying post. Yetter is now serving in that capacity.

In addition to this he is a candidate for State Representative from Monroe County if he receives his party's nomination in the May 20 primary. Yetter served in the legislature before.

Over Year
He has been serving as the party's chairman for slightly more than a year. He was named to the post following the resignation of County Sheriff Jacob F. Altomero in 1957. During recent weeks there have been rumors of a possible factional fight within the party over the chairmanship. So far, the struggle has not flared out into the open, if it still exists, however.

Two Women Perish In Scranton Fire

Some 200 city and suburban firemen fought the blaze for two hours before bringing it under control.

Republicans Endorse Candidate

REPUBLICANS in the 15th District found and endorsed an 11th-hour candidate to oppose Rep. Francis E. Walter for U. S. Congress.

The man is Luther H. Ackerman, Upper Mount Bethel, who had said some weeks back that he might run in the party primary May 20.

GOP leaders expressed fear earlier that they would be unable to find a candidate in the 15th district who would be willing to file before the March 17 deadline.

That was remedied over the weekend with a series of telephone calls between party chairmen in Northampton, Carbon and Monroe counties.

Saturday night Northampton County chairman Donald C. Mack confirmed the party's endorsement of Ackerman for the race.

Intention
Rep. Walter announced his intention to seek reelection on Feb. 23. He did so, he said, at the insistence of Congressional leaders and of his supporters in the 15th District which he has represented for 25 years.

The GOP nominee is a member of the Northampton County Republican Committee who has never sought public office before. He is a past president of the Upper Mount Bethel Republican Club.

Ackerman was born in Ackermanville and has lived in the Mount Bethel area since 1910. He attended Mount Bethel Schools and the Bangor High School. He is in the insurance business in Bangor.

He is a member of Christ Lutheran Church, Stone Church; a past master of Portland Lodge, F. and A. M., and a number of other Masonic affiliates. He is assistant county Civil Defense director.

Ackerman is married and has one daughter. He told newsmen over the weekend that he would carry on a campaign directed at the small town residents because "I have been associated with common people all my life and I believe I can represent their thinking and feelings."

15 Cars Jump Railroad Tracks

PHILADELPHIA—Fifteen cars of a westbound Pennsylvania Railroad freight train left the tracks four miles west of Langhorne yesterday, blocking service on the PRR's Trenton cutoff.

The derailment was blamed on a broken coupling. The derailed cars were near the center of the 104-car freight headed for Harrisburg from Jersey City. Passenger service was not affected.

Crowe Insurance Agency presents its WEEKLY INSURANCE LETTER

Dear Friends:

Did I hear you say the HIGH cost of insurance? Let's stop and think for a moment and I'll point out how LOW the cost of insurance is compared to prices of many other products.

Back in 1938 you could purchase one of the then low-priced three automobiles with all the "extras" for about $910. Today one of the same models WITHOUT any extras except a heater will cost you about $2,500.

The house you built in 1938 for $5,000 will cost you about $15,500—a 210% increase! The 10c loaf of bread is now 25c!! The $10 pair of shoes is now $25.—increases in excess of 150%.

Now let's look at some basic insurance rates and you will see what I mean when I say fire, automobile, and life insurance is a real bargain today.

Fire Insurance Rates per $100
Frame dwelling in Stroudsburg or East Stroudsburg ..... 34c 14c
1938 1958

A decrease of over 50%—imagine that! Basic limits for a low-priced car not used by a salesman with no youthful, male drivers is now $33 whereas in 1938 it was $27. An increase—yes—but a far cry from the astronomical increases of other products.

As an INDEPENDENT, local agent we at Crowe Insurance Agency are proud of the record of the insurance industry. We can point to reduced rates with far broader protection in every phase of our business.

Call us at 2810 today about your insurance problems. It may be the most important phone call you'll ever make.

But Do You Really UNDERSTAND The Bible?

Many people maintain that the Bible is so simple and clear that anyone can understand it.

Yet today the Christian world is divided into conflicting opinions as to what the Bible means. Sincere and equally learned Bible scholars take different meanings from the same words, and there are many Christian sects which disagree on basic Bible questions.

The average Christian who wants to understand the Bible, finds all this confusing... wondering which interpretation to accept, whom to believe. The result is that the Bible often gathers dust on the family bookshelf, when it should be bringing joy to the hearts of men.

Catholics, of course, join with Christians everywhere in recognizing the complete Bible as the inspired Word of God. It could not be otherwise, for it was the Catholic Church which assembled the books of the Bible nearly 1600 years ago, and which preserved its precious message on parchment for a thousand years before the invention of the printing press.

It is unfortunate, however, that some of the most devoted Bible readers do not understand it. As a matter of fact, Holy Scripture is seldom correctly understood unless we have certain preliminary knowledge concerning God's revealed truth.

In writing the New Testament, its authors took into account that a knowledge of God's revelation already prevailed. The books they wrote were intended to instruct and confirm teachings already known—not to announce something entirely unknown. When you have this preliminary knowledge, the Bible is neither contradictory nor confusing.

Right To Know

Constantly confronting a newspaper is the problem of procuring for its readers at all times all information pertaining to public affairs.

Increasingly in recent years the press of America has had to contend against secrecy in government at all levels. This difficulty has grown as government functions have expanded.

It is basic to the liberty of Americans that information concerning their welfare and concerning the manner in which public officials are discharging their public duties should be freely and fully published.

A few weeks ago, when the United States made its first attempt to launch a satellite, the Vanguard, and the venture fizzled, a great debate was set off on whether the government exercised good judgment in publicizing such an important event in advance.

Many persons — and most politicians — argued that secrecy should have shrouded the experiments. Only success should have been announced, according to these persons.

But Murray Snyder, assistant secretary of defense, and James P. Mitchell, secretary of labor, were not among these.

Secretary Snyder told a House committee: "If we were to accede to demands that we keep all satellite launchings secret, I'd be exceeding my legal authority and be interfering with the constitutional right of freedom of the press."

The labor secretary was even more emphatic. He said, "A free press is basic to our democracy. It allows the people to be informed of the state of their progress, so they may know failure and success alike and make their decisions accordingly."

"There is no question at all that open disclosure is necessary and desirable in any country in which the people govern themselves. The fact of public knowledge is far more important to the strength of democracy than any technical achievement could ever be."

These men see clearly the importance of the people's right to know.

Hoover Writes A Book

J. Edgar Hoover, Director of the FBI, has professionally and with enormous resources at his command, become the leading authority in the United States on Communist activities in this country. John B. Oakes, an editor of "The New York Times," has no similar distinction in this particular field.

Hoover wrote a book, "Masters of Deceit," but Oakes in the text of his book review does not use the title that Hoover gave this book; he prefers a sub-title. The reader must look back to an introductory paragraph to see what he is really writing about.

I can imagine among Communists, ex-Communists or anti-Communists plenty of competent men to be engaged for such a review job, just as "The New York Times Book Review" often engages specialists in many fields. To mention one in each category: Earl Browder, Whitaker Chambers, Eugene Lyons. So this is how Oakes starts the review:

"The thesis on which J. Edgar Hoover bases this informal study of American Communists and American communism is that the Communist party within the United States is a clear and present danger to us today. It is a view that not all of its 170 million anti-Communist fellow-Americans will readily accept."

I wonder how Oakes can possibly know what 170,000,000 Americans accept. But apart from that, of what importance is such a statement except to belittle J. Edgar Hoover?

For after all, if Hoover thought that everybody knew as much about this subject, to which he has devoted so much of his life, as he did, there would be no need to write another book. What Hoover has done in this volume is to summarize all the information available to him, all the experience which has been his and his agents' since 1917.

Let me quote John B. Oakes a little further: "There is at times a naive and at times a slightly dated quality to the contents of Mr. Hoover's book, which, as he himself says, is written 'in almost primer form.' It is dated because American communism itself is dated, with no longer any strength or influence, with knowledge and ability who could from their own knowledge and experience check the accuracy of Hoover's statements and the correctness of his judgments. But today apparently expertise is no qualification. Anything can happen. Did not Danny Kaye conduct the New York Philharmonic Orchestra?"

Robert S. Allen Reports . . .

Labor Probe Raps Both Sides

Washington, March 16—The Senate Rackets Committee is just about set to publish the first report on its sensational exposé — and neither labor nor management will like it.

Both are caustically denounced on numerous counts: ranging from violence, gangster rule and the pilfering of $10,000,000 in union funds, to collusion and extensive violations of the Labor Relations Act by management. While a majority of the eight-member committee (4 Democrats and 4 Republicans) have approved the report, two dissents have been indicated in the probe's discussions.

Senator Barry Goldwater (R., Ariz.), militant labor critic, has expressed intention to prepare his own report on the protracted Kohler strike in Wisconsin. Goldwater was largely instrumental for the committee's investigation of this bitter and costly conflict.

Senator Patrick McNamara (D., Mich.), former AFL official, is preparing a dissent aimed chiefly at management. McNamara will also take a poke at the committee, saying, "The Senate should give serious consideration to determining whether this committee has not outlived its usefulness."

In addition to its blistering findings, the majority report contains numerous recommendations for legislative reforms. The explosive document, due to be published shortly, is based on more than a year of spectacular investigating, during which 486 witnesses were interrogated in 104 days of open hearings. The committee will submit other reports later.

The findings — There are nine findings in the majority report, in its present form. The last one of these blasts at labor and management may be revised or even eliminated entirely, although it has been approved. This critical conclusion is aimed at certain labor lawyers, and several committee members are unhappy about it.

Senator John McClellan (D., Ark.), chairman and an attorney, is being urged to throw out this finding.

These nine approved conclusions are as follows:

1. "There has been a significant lack of democratic procedures in unions."

2. "International unions have flagrantly abused their power to place local unions under trusteeship or supervision."

3. "Management have extensively engaged in collusion with unions."

4. "There has been widespread misuse of union funds."

5. "Violence in labor management disputes, widely regarded as a relic of the organizing era of the '30s, still exists to an extent where it may be justifiably labeled a crime against the community."

6. "Management and their agents have engaged in a number of illegal and improper activities in violation of the National Labor Relations Act, as amended by the Taft-Hartley law."

7. "The weapon of organizational picketing has been abused."

8. "Gangsters and hoodlums have successfully infiltrated the labor union movement, sometimes at high levels."

9. "Members of the legal profession have played a dubious role in their relationships with officials of some unions."

The probe's stress that their bare-knuckled report "is in no way intended to reflect on the overwhelming majority of labor unions and businessmen in this nation." Most employers and union officials are honorable and law-abiding.

At the same time, the Senate investigators voice astonishment and shock "at the magnitude of the improper and vicious practices that have been uncovered."

Regarding these outrages and violations the report states: "Gangsters and hoodlums have successfully infiltrated the labor union movement, sometimes at high levels. They have assumed positions of trust in some labor unions. They have exercised sinister influence over other union officials. Higher union authority has shown no desire to rid the labor movement of those with lengthy criminal records."

The sensational charge of the pilfering of $10,000,000 of union funds is made in two different parts of the report.

The first reference is in the foreword, as follows: "As an overall finding from the testimony produced at our hearings, the Committee has uncovered the shocking fact that union funds in excess of $10,000,000 were either stolen, embezzled, or misused by union officials for their own financial gain or for the gain of their friends and associates."

The second reference is at the end of the report, as follows: "With incredible loose practices, the misuse of union funds, including outright thefts and borrowings for personal profit, has totaled upwards of $10,000,000 in union dues money; an average of $5 out of the pocket of every member of the unions covered in this report."

These unions are: Teamsters, Bakers, United Textile Workers, Operating Engineers, Allied Industrial Workers, Barbers, some building trades and other unions.

Two stern warnings are contained in the report, as follows:

"The preponderance of this evidence should serve as a danger signal to unions and management. Some of these conditions are obviously going to have to be met by federal legislation."

"The committee's far-reaching recommendations for such much-needed reforms will be reported in tomorrow's column."

Spring May Hold Answer

With Spring only a matter of days away, the big question is — Will we have any more snow?

Most people are of the opinion that the snow that fell Thursday night and early Friday morning is the last for this Winter.

Although Spring officially comes upon us at 10:06 p.m. Thursday, don't bet that we're finished battling this white stuff.

I can remember several years when our biggest snows of the Winter came after April 1, when Spring had been with us for more than a week.

And, it wasn't any April Fool's Day prank.

Just keep hoping that Spring will blow in nice and warm and stay that way until Summer takes over at 4:57 p.m. on Saturday, June 21.

Clifton Fadiman, eminent critic, believes in the encouragement of authentic (NOT publicity-crazy) eccentrics, and cites as prime example (1) the French dandy who paraded down the Champs Elysees trailing a live lobster at the end of a string, because, he explained, it knew the secrets of the sea, and (2) the late Joe Gould, of Greenwich Village via Harvard, who, inheriting $1,000, bought a big radio, took it out on Sixth avenue, and kicked it to pieces. "Kip" Fadiman also recalls an off-beat mathematics professor who vacationed in Brussels so he could readily organize mountain-climbing expeditions to the highest point in Belgium. How high was that point? The prof replied, "12 feet above sea level."

Teacher Back-Talk

The other night we were at the school in our hometown to see a skit. But this time all the actors were teachers. The title was, "Teachers Are Human," and plainly the present crisis in education was the inspiration.

These teachers were human enough, leading lives riddled with annoyances petty and not-so-petty, some deeply interested in their students and some less so. But obviously their play also could have been titled "Teachers Are Not Parents." As one of the teacher-actors put it, it is difficult to be a fulltime, daytime baby sitter while trying to launch a Sputnik in a classroom.

The teachers seemed to make a point that has been made too seldom in all the talk about the shortcomings of teachers and education. Leaving aside their natural pique at being made the target of the national "failure" in science, there is much truth in the idea that parents still bear the chief responsibility for their offspring and their attainments or lack thereof.

It is possible that parents will have to resume their job of both curbing and inspiring their youngsters, teaching them at home some of the elementary principles of good citizenship and also of intellectual achievement. As one leading educator recently put it, "This requires no money — only a change of heart."—Wall Street Journal.

The Pennsylvania Story

Unemployment Issue

By Mason Denison Harrisburg — "The fundamental issues in this year's Pennsylvania campaign are unemployment and the sales tax."

The author of that statement — candidate George M. Leader.

However — and this is the striking and interesting point — the statement was made not by U. S. Senate Candidate Leader but by gubernatorial candidate Leader in 1954.

With painful clarity and ironies of ironies, the statement with the exception of the sales tax phase, which today is a dead issue if there ever was one, rings just as true in 1958 as it did in 1954.

The Leader statement was made Oct. 7, 1954, when this column asked both the Republican (Lloyd H. Wood) and Democratic candidates for Governor to write The Pennsylvania Story for that day on the question:

"What do you feel is the fundamental issue in the current governorship race?"

In a flash-back sense, what Mr. Leader said then and the fact that unemployment again is destined to be a major issue in this year's campaign as he rounds out his final year of gubernatorial stewardship, is of more than passing interest.

Statement Recalled The then gubernatorial candidate Leader pointed out that unemployment compensation benefit payments to Pennsylvania's jobless under the then Republican administration in office were running around $24 million a month.

The present picture: jobless payments now are rounding out at around $31 million.

Gubernatorial candidate Leader then noted that the number of jobless pay checks forwarded to unemployed Pennsylvania workers was around 940,000 a month.

The present picture: the number of unemployment compensation checks moving out monthly at the present time is around 1,100,000.

Looking at it one way, Pennsylvania's unemployment picture is worse than four years ago, notwithstanding Mr. Leader's statement in this column at the time that:

"The Democratic Party in Pennsylvania proposes a positive plan to increase job opportunities, to wipe out labor surplus areas, to develop diversified industries where ghost towns now stand."

Looking at it another way, none but the most partisan souls can deny the fact that the Leader Administration actually made a stab in this direction with its Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority (PIDA)—and in more recent months, a publicly-avowed effort to step up and to telescope some $200 million in public works projects in Pennsylvania.

Campaign year 1958 undoubtedly will see many of those controversial issues of four years ago appearing on campaign platforms—but with slightly different wrappings.

What was Republican Gubernatorial candidate Wood's view of the "fundamental" issue in the 1954 campaign? This also is interesting. Here it is:

"The fundamental issue of this election campaign is whether the people of Pennsylvania are going to be bamboozled into believing that the Government of our Commonwealth can be operated at lower cost, without seriously crippling basic services for the welfare of our citizens."

Judging from the election results of that November in 1954, bamboozling was very much the order of the day, insofar as the voters themselves were concerned.

Will there be a "bamboozle" movement as such in 1958? If there isn't, undoubtedly it will be the first time! However this year a goodly portion of the electorate with its growing jobless tanks is expected to take a closer look at 1954 to 1958.

East Stroudsburg RD 2

Dear Mr. Editor:

I go to East Stroudsburg once a week on business and to shop. Because I live on an R.D. route I always take a short-cut and go down King St.

I just can't go by without looking over at the International Boiler Works because blowing out so beautifully in the breeze is Old Glory.

I understand they are only working four days a week, but still have Old Glory up.

I know some plants that are working five to seven days a week don't have Old Glory blowing in the breeze so beautiful.

It only takes a few minutes in the morning to put the flag up and the same at night to take it down. So come on, fellows, let's get Old Glory up there blowing in the breeze. You have so much to be thankful for.

God bless Old Glory and her freedom.

A FLAG LOVER

McNamara To Dissent

By Robert S. Allen

Washington, March 16 — A member of the Senate Rackets Committee is preparing to assail its widely-publicized investigations of labor conditions in Portland, Ore., Scranton, Pa., and Sheboygan, Wis.

Senator Patrick McNamara (D., Mich.), former AFL official, will do that in a dissent to the first report which the committee is issuing shortly.

In this dissent, McNamara will characterize the "Portland hearings as inconclusive, to say the least, and a slander on the people of that city."

The Scranton, Pa., probe will be branded by him as "a rehash of old issues."

Even more scathingly, McNamara will denounce the committee's sensational hearings on the long and bitter Kohler Company strike as "reflecting unfavorably not only on the committee, but on the entire U. S. Senate."

"I'd like tomorrow off. My grandmother is making her first parachute jump."

LIVING BIRTHDAY CAKE—of 46 Girl Scouts marked the organizations 46th birthday, celebrated on Saturday by the Girl Scouts of Monroe County at a rally at Stroud Union High School gym.

Girl Scouts Rally 700 Strong Sat.

A program re-creating the events of National Girl Scout Week marked the rally which climaxed local observance of the week. More than 700 persons gathered at the Stroud Union High School on Saturday afternoon for the county-wide rally.

Sandra Wakefield, a senior scout, served as announcer for the program which emphasized the slogan, "You Can Count on Her—".

Sunday featured the presentation of the colors with Troop 18 as color guard and the group singing "O Beautiful Banner". The invocation was given in three prayers: Jackie Vollers, a Brownie, leading the Protestant prayer; Mary Ellen Gilliland, a Senior, the Catholic Prayer; and Yohevet Geshen-sky, an Intermediate, the Jewish prayer.

Monday was a homemaker day, when Troop 22 gave a skit of preparing and serving an afternoon tea.

Tuesday as citizenship day featured another skit by Troop 6, contrasting the proper and improper behavior of Girl Scouts on the streets.

Wednesday, the birthday of Juliette Low, founder of Girl Scouting in America, was marked by the living birthday cake. Carrying lighted candles, Scouts from many troops formed a tiered birthday cake.

Mrs. LeRoy J. Koehler, president of the Monroe County Council of Girl Scouts, paid tribute to the Girl Scouts on their 46th birthday.

"To some 46 seems quite young; to others 46 seems very old; but for the Girl Scout organization 46 is just right," she said. "It has given us time to grow. Our Girl Scout promise and laws have stood the test of the years. Live up to them, they are a wonderful code of ethics."

Thursday was international friendship day, and in illustration the Brownies who had made their own bows and costumes danced "Hi, Little Lassie". While the Scout band of troop 13 played, the Juliette Low representatives from all the troops of the county brought their World Friendship gifts.

Twelve boxes, decorated in green and white, and each marked with a separate letter of Juliette Low's name, received the gifts of the troops.

Illustrating the arts and crafts for Friday, Miss Diane Yutz presented a comic tap dance.

Camping songs marked Saturday the out of doors day, climaxed with "Peace of the River" and "Taps".

In between the days, there were songs by the Group led by Mrs. J. L. Cohen.

After the program, the Scouts and their parents and friends adjourned to the school cafeteria for cup cakes and punch, made by the Scouts themselves.

The rally was planned by the Juliette Low representatives from each troop and Mrs. Ira Nagler, Juliette Low chairman.

Little Workers Work Hard In Paradise For Center; Invite Community To Help

The Little Workers of Paradise Township have done a lot of work over the past seven or eight years to make their dream of a community center for Paradise come true, and are now appealing for general support from the residents of the township and its surroundings.

The Little Workers are a group of women from the Paradise area who gathered together for community welfare. They represent many churches and many interests, but their major interest just now is a community center.

There is no place in Paradise where the young people can get together. The Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts meet in homes but when they plan a party there is no place big enough to hold them all. Older folks, too, need a central meeting place for suppers and socials. The Little Workers saw the need years ago, and through their own efforts: bake sales, suppers, and other benefits, have raised enough money to purchase land for the community center. They have also interested a number of contractors and craftsmen who have offered their work and machinery.

Now Little Workers are seeking to make it a community project. They have called a meeting for Tuesday night at 7:30 p.m. at Keokee Chapel to which everyone is invited. They are particularly anxious to have parents there.

The land they have purchased is the former Hill property, located on a side road near Keokee Chapel. The group has applied for a charter and at the meeting on Tuesday night expect to elect officers and make more concrete plans for what has been up until now a dream of a few women.

DAR To Hear Committees In Action

At this afternoon's meeting of the Jacob Stroud Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution a summary of the year's activities will be presented in a program featuring chapter chairmen in "Committees in Action."

The meeting will be preceded by a dessert at 1:15 at the Stroud Community House. Mrs. Claude W. Leister and Mrs. Nelson Westbrook are co-chairmen of the hostess committee which includes Mrs. William Heitler, Mrs. Bernard Peters, and Mrs. Ralph Kirkhoff.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Chase of 211 South Crystal St., East Stroudsburg, announce the engagement of their daughter, Patricia Ann, to David William Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Smith, 179 North Courtland St., East Stroudsburg.

Miss Chase is a graduate of East Stroudsburg High School in the class of 1955 and is employed at the Bell Telephone Co.

Mr. Smith was graduated from East Stroudsburg High School in the class of 1953 and is employed at the Hughes Printing Co. He is leaving soon for service with the Armed Forces.

Junior High Party Perks Right Along For 350 Friday

When the Junior High has a party, it has everything. On Friday night, 350 students at Stroud Union Junior High School turned out for the party at the high school gymnasium sponsored by the Parent Teachers Assn.

They gave the entertainment enthusiastic support, they danced to the music of the high school dance band, they ate sandwiches by the hundreds and drank pop by the case. Forewarned by last year's enthusiastic reception of the food and pop, the parents this year had plenty.

Elvis Presley could have had no more enthusiastic response than the Junior High crowd gave one of their own members, Michael Blutman, who accompanied his solos on the guitar, singing "I Beg of You" and "The Stroll."

Also bringing down the house were the Knock-out Knock-kneed Know-Nothings, from Nowhere: Sandra Bell, Tricia Everett, Sharon Phillips and Kathy Putnam.

Philip Hansen served as master of ceremonies, and other numbers given enthusiastic response were accordion solos played by Francis Zeller, Carolyn Plevyak, and David Haney.

Just Between Us—

—By Bobby Westbrook

This was the weekend to be young. With the Junior High party on Friday night and the Girl Scout rally on Saturday afternoon, it was the kids' weekend to howl.

And don't think they didn't! Especially at the rock and roll numbers at the Junior High dance. Ah—there's an age to be. An age when you're doing everything for the very first time, and it never is quite so wonderful—or so terrible—again.

The world is a peach with the fuzz on it. The world is a rocket heading lickety-split for outer space with you hanging on the tail. The world is Goliath and you are a David.

They can react with all the enthusiasm and war whoops of Indians on the war-path or with all the stoicism and lack of expression of an Indian chief going "Ugh."

They look forward to every event as to Christmas morning, and regard every disappointment as the end of the world. They are exasperating; but they aren't dull.

For parents there's all the excitement of a continual tug-of-war with the apron strings. There's all the uncertainty of whether they're going to invite you in to share their joy or heartache or slam the door in your face. They can make a do-or-die stand like Horatius at the bridge, or they can infiltrate your defense with loving kindness.

Well, you're both growing up, and if you live through it, you look back on it as a time you wouldn't have missed for the world—and wouldn't go through again for anything.

Aid Health By Installing Humidispray

IN THE Winter season have you noticed how the heating in your home is often a bit "on the dry side" causing a burning of the nostrils? This is one of the first signs of what can be one of the most serious health problems to your family. Lack of proper moisture content in the air in your home can often cause colds, headaches, dry skin and scalp and a host of other unhealthy conditions in your body.

The Lennox people, pioneers in the warm air heating field, have recently introduced Humidispray, a wonderful new method of putting that needed moisture into the air in your home in just the right amount.

Humidispray is installed right in the heating ducts of your heating system allowing filtering of the air too.

The water used in the system is permanently piped to the apparatus and valving of air and water mixtures is set and may then be forgotten. Construction is of anodized aluminum and installation of Humidispray is good for a lifetime as there is nothing to rust, corrode or plug.

Fred Kresge Agent For Myers Pump

THOSE WHO must depend on an individual pump to deliver their water supply to their home would do well to give it serious consideration before heavy usage periods are here. Summer consumption of water makes extra demands on our water supply for watering lawns, shrubs, washing the car and the like.

Fred Kresge Jr., plumbing and heating contractor of Scotrun, suggests you look into the famous Myers line of pumps. A specialist in pump application, Kresge will gladly survey your water system and recommend the Myers Pump for the job.

Finding increasing popularity with the public is the new Myers Quality-Built Submersible. The Submersible, as the name implies is mounted beneath the water at a low level in the well. Advantages are extreme quietness, high pumping capacity and trouble-free operation. The dependability of submersible type pumps has long been proven in oil field operations and in the past few years has gained favor for water pumping.

Other popular models are the Myers Shallow Well models, Myers Ejector Jet models, and Myers Deep Well Power Pumps.

Fred Kresge Jr. is an authorized Myers Sales & Service dealer in the area. . . . Whether you already own a Myers or need a new pump, call Stroudsburg 1434-R-11 for the best in product and service!

Family Life Again Centers In Modernized Kitchen

WHEN MR. and Mrs. Homeowner decide they're going to do the place over a bit, the first room they generally head for to day is the kitchen. They are equipped with hammers, sewing box, paint, pliers, plans and their wallet and they want a new kitchen.

There are many reasons why the home food-factory is their prime interest. The first is the trend in kitchens.

Once, the roomy kitchen was the core of the home. Entertainment, eating and family life were centered around this room, which had a big table, a fireplace, a rocking chair and a cat.

Then the kitchen bowed to science. It became a laboratory—a white-walled cell, efficient-looking as all get out, clean and miserable to be in. The idea was to work fast and get out, and was promoted by awkward spaces and heights, cramped quarters and an operating-room atmosphere.

Wants Space
It didn't take Mrs. Homeowner long to discover that the kitchen was a singularly depressing place to spend the major part of her day. Now, again she wants space and ease of serving and preparing, color, comfort, company. In short, she wants her grandmother's kitchen back, cat and all.

The second reason why the homeowners change their kitchen first is that Papa is spending time there, too.

The third reason they want to improve their kitchen is that manufacturers have come out with a dizzying array of major and small appliances that make the kitchen more economical, easier and more fun.

The family's dissatisfaction with the operating-room kitchen atmosphere has been beautifully answered by the manufacturer of Beautycraft Kitchens. These versatile all-steel, "Curv-Line" Kitchens are sold in this area by the H. C. Archibald Co., 406 Main St.

Archibald's Beautycraft Kitchen stylist will custom design a kitchen for you, based upon your own ideas and plans.

Real Gardens Bring Touch Of Reality

THE arrival of Spring and the 83rd anniversary of the A. B. Wyckoff Department Store will be heralded simultaneously this week when, on Wednesday, "Courtesy Day" is held. This is a preview to the Big Birthday Sale which officially opens Thursday.

The theme this year is "Younger than Springtime"—a phrase selected by the store to indicate that, while it is one of the oldest business institutions in this section of Pennsylvania, Wyckoff's is forward looking and youthful in its approach to changing conditions and fashions.

Gardens To Be Featured
A spectacular feature of this year's anniversary, and one that will serve to bring Springtime into the store, will be a series of gardens arranged by the La-Bar Rhododendron Nursery. At various points throughout the store will be beautiful arrangements of fresh greens, lilies, azaleas, and other seasonal flowers.

The second floor will have the most impressive display of all—a tulip garden.

In order that everyone may enjoy these displays, even the shuttles who are unable to visit the store except by telephone, a broadcast direct from the gardens will be presented Thursday morning by Madalyn Maloney, The Wyckoff Shopper, with store officials and Jesse Flory, of La-Bar's Nursery, as guests. The half hour broadcast will begin at the usual time of 9:45, continuing until 10:15.

Perhaps the most unusual feature of the 10-day celebration will be a display of modern, foreign made cars on Saturday, March 22, in front of the store. Local dealers are cooperating with the store in arranging the show, and approximately 12 models will be on public view.

National Want-Ad Week

Classified Advertising Began Back In 17th Century

ONCE UPON a time a great city was destroyed by fire—London in the 17th century. Men, women and children, fleeing from a raging inferno, became separated from their loved ones; furniture and household goods were abandoned and new locations were found in strange areas.

In the confusion and chaos, help was provided through a new and untried medium. A great London newspaper offered an opportunity for those who wished to locate lost relatives, friends, household goods, new jobs and homes. This opportunity was made available through paid notices printed in the newspaper.

This was the birth of our modern Classified Want-Ads. Never before had private citizens been able to communicate their needs to one another through the printed word, freely and readily, for a moderate cost.

The success of this "adventure" grew and spread. Charles II, George Washington, Benjamin Franklin and other leading citizens of history became constant Want-Ad users and readers.

Walt Disney got his first cartoonist job on a midwestern newspaper through a Want-Ad.

So you see, this "Person-to-Person" business had been around a long time before Edward R. Murrow popularized the phrase on a Friday night television show.

Want-Ads are truly the "Person-to-Person" medium between all types of people with all types of wants.

But unlike TV programs there's not much glamor associated with Want-Ads. The reason is simple: they're work horses!

They perform all sorts of jobs with very little fan-fare. Last Summer a Want-Ad helped a Delaware Water Gap man recover an unmarked envelope he'd lost containing over $150.

Want-Ads helped a Cresco man recover some very valuable seeds he'd lost, they've helped locate countless dogs that have strayed from home, they've found apartments and jobs for residents of the Stroudsburg, sold hundreds of cars and countless houses to people all over the Pocono Mountains.

This week in recognition of "The Working Want-Ad," The Daily Record is celebrating "National Want-Ad Week" in cooperation with 600 other newspapers throughout the country.

"The Daily Record has great faith in the Want-Ad's ability to do a satisfactory job," Robert Widmer, manager of The Record's classified advertising department, stated.

"All this week we are offering 'Guaranteed Results,'" Widmer said. "This means that any person or business, not already under contract, who starts a Want-Ad this week to run for six days—and does not get results—will receive an additional six days advertising free of extra charge."

Khrushchev Warns Of Red Power

MOSCOW (U)—Nikita Khrushchev told the West last night any attempt to change the status of Eastern Communist nations by force would bring Soviet intervention.

In an election speech, the Communist party head denounced as "insulting" the proposal of President Eisenhower that a summit conference should include the question of East European states. Khrushchev said the Soviet Union not only rejected the proposal but declared that, "In the event of any new attempt from abroad to change the status of the Socialist—Communist—nations by force, we will not remain ordinary onlookers and we will not leave our friends in the lurch."

"We are true to our responsibilities and to our international duties, and we would not like anyone to test our patience anew," he added.

An audience of 14,000 in Moscow's Sports Palace roared its approval as Khrushchev asserted the Soviet Union has intercontinental ballistic missiles and everything else needed "to crash any aggressor who tries to attack our country."

Speaking of the status of the East European states, he said the Soviet Union could just as well suggest that it is time for capitalist systems in Western Europe to make way for socialism.

"But we are realists," he added, "and we realize we cannot put forward such proposals if we hope to end the cold war and achieve peaceful coexistence."

Clyde Pyle Selected Superintendent Of Pennsylvania's Huge Valley Forge Park

E. CLYDE Pyle, W. Main St., Stroudsburg, has been named superintendent of the giant, 2,000-acre Valley Forge State Park.

Pyle was formerly Delaware District chief State forester. He was relieved of that position last month as a result of new Civil Service Commission examinations.

His transfer to the important state park post was official last Thursday. Pyle returned to Stroudsburg over the weekend to attend to personal matters.

Last night he said that he is now moving permanently to Valley Forge but that his family will remain in Stroudsburg for the time being.

"I am sure being superintendent of this park will be a new and exciting experience for me. I am returning to a section of the state which is well-known to me. It is only about eight miles from my birthplace where I spent all of my childhood," Pyle said.

Pyle was born in Malvern and grew up there "but I haven't been back there during the past 35 years," he said.

Valley Forge State Park employs as many year-round workers as does the entire Delaware Forestry District. The park has been functioning without a superintendent for nearly a year because no suitable and qualified person could be found.

It is one of the state's largest and most widely-used parks as well as one of the most attractive and well-equipped in the Commonwealth.

Labor Leaders In Quest Of Activity On Unemployment

WASHINGTON (U)—Labor union leaders yesterday analyzed their area economic situations and came up with the conclusion unemployment is growing worse instead of better.

About one thousand AFL-CIO union leaders, gathered from all over the country, reviewed their home state conditions and prepared for a mass invasion of Capitol Hill Wednesday to sell Congress on anti-recession moves.

J. W. Belanger of Boston, representing the Textile Workers Union, told the New England group of AFL-CIO chiefs: "It's all very well for the administrative heads of government to tell us they are going to take steps 'if necessary.' What we've got to convince them is that it's necessary now, we've got to do it now."

The labor group met as a single audience Tuesday morning to hear AFL-CIO President George Meany describe the recession as America's No. 1 problem and call for lower taxes and more defense and public works spending.

Secretary of Labor Mitchell said President Eisenhower's administration is moving to counter the economic dip and is ready to call for a tax cut when necessary.

Bethlehem-York Duel Tops PIAA Interdistrict Runoffs

HARRISBURG (AP)—Interdistrict playoffs leading to regional championships get under way this week, while a quartet of districts round out their campaign for area titles.

As the interdistrict clashes begin three of the 1957 District Class A champions managed to hang onto their titles a second straight year, while a fourth—Chester—is expected to grab the Dist. 1 crown Wednesday.

The three holdovers are Erie

Strong Vincent, Dist. 10; Altoona, Dist. 6, and Bedford, Dist. 5.

Two major interdistrict games Tuesday highlight the week's card. Powerful York—the only unbeaten team remaining in the state—tangles with Dist. 11 champion Bethlehem Tuesday at the palestra in Philadelphia.

Another Big One

In another game the same night Williamsport, the Dist. 4 titlist will meet the Dist. 2 winner, Plymouth.

The following night four more champions square off in the West. Pittsburgh's Langley, the Dist. 8 king, meets Vincent at Westminster College, New Wilmington.

In the other game Bedford meets Altoona at Juniata College, Huntingdon.

The first round games will be followed later in the week by quarter finals which will bring into the winners of Dist. 1, 9 and 7 against the survivors of the first round.

Still to be decided are the important titles of Dist. 1 and 7, the two areas that have sent more teams to the state championship playoffs than any others since World War II.

Faces "Victim"

Ironically, Chester will meet Haverford for the Dist. 1 crown Wednesday. That's a team Chester beat twice in the regular season. However, under the Suburban I League rules—both are members—the two top teams can enter district playoffs. Both have survived to this point.

In the West the clash between Charleroi and Washington Wednesday could well decide the next state champion, if past performance of the potent Dist. 7 is any criteria.

Both teams were expected to succumb in the WPAL playoffs, but Charleroi vanquished Uniontown for the semi-final berth, while Washington—highly regarded, but not considered a world beater in the regular season—knocked off Sharon, the 1957 state champion and a favorite to repeat on the title.

In another district title clash DuBois and Punksutawney meet for the Dist. 9 crown.

Here's the schedule for initial interdistrict clashes in the other playoff classes:

Tuesday—Mansfield (Dist. 4) vs. Tunkhannock (Dist. 12) at Mansfield State Teachers College; Port Allegeny (Dist. 9) vs. Fredonia (Dist. 10) at Corry; Renovo (Dist. 6) vs. Wampum (Dist. 7) at McKeesport.

Wednesday—Darby (Dist. 1) vs. Columbia (Dist. 3) at Lancaster High School.

Thursday—Jenkintown (Dist. 1) vs. Coplay (Dist. 11) at Norristown High; Jermyn (Dist. 2) vs. Waymart (Dist. 12) at Clarks Summit; Hyndman-Londonberry (Dist. 5) vs. Williamsburg (Dist. 6) at Bedford High; Penn Twp (Dist. 9) vs. Randolph (Dist. 10) at Mercer.

Friday—Jenkintown (Dist. 1) vs. Coplay (Dist. 11) at Norristown High; Jermyn (Dist. 2) vs. Waymart (Dist. 12) at Clarks Summit; Hyndman-Londonberry (Dist. 5) vs. Williamsburg (Dist. 6) at Bedford High; Penn Twp (Dist. 9) vs. Randolph (Dist. 10) at Mercer.

He claims, the press, public, student body and players were behind him solidly, but that the superintendent and board were against him. "The precedent you will be establishing would mean throwing sportsmanship and character building out the window because a coach has to win to keep his job. Rather than see such a philosophy, I would sooner see you abolish football in Middletown High School."

Nania told the board he was not pleading for his job but was appearing for the sole purpose of "saving Middletown High football."

Nania, a former Duke University football and track star, cited soccer as one detriment to winning football, noting that the sporting sport took away manpower.

Ironically, Nania took over the $600 coaching job from a mentor—Edward Rodick—who also went the way destined for the ex-BuDevil.

He requested the conference with the board after snubbing a chance to resign for "the good of the school, team and himself."

"By my proposed dismissal, they (board) would be setting a precedent that will sacrifice sportsmanship and the character-building aspects of football because a coach now has to win to keep his job," he declared.

The change in the coaching position was recommended by the superintendent of schools, it was reported.

Owls Take On Kentucky In NCAA Semis

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

TWO dark horse contenders will clash with two of the favorites in the semi-finals of the 1958 National Collegiate Basketball Championships at Louisville, Ky., Friday night.

Kentucky, holder of all sorts of winning records in NCAA tournament competition, but an outsider this year, will face the red-hot Temple University Owls and Seattle will play powerful Kansas State. The winners of Friday's semi-finals will meet for the title Saturday.

These four emerged as the survivors in the 24-team NCAA play after a busy week of competition that brought the 1957-58 season almost to an end.

Other developments this past week were:

South Dakota won the NCAA Small College tournament, which ended Friday.

Tennessee State's iron-man team repeated as winner of the National Assn. of Intercollegiate Athletics title, after a full week of competition among smaller colleges.

St. John's of Brooklyn and St. Bonaventure of Olean, N.Y., lead the way into the semi-finals of the 21-year-old National Invitation Tournament in New York's Madison Square Garden, eliminating Utah and St. Joseph's of Philadelphia, respectively. The other NIT semi-finalists will be decided Tuesday.

This year the Southeastern Conference champions, who had only a 13-6 regular-season win-loss record, had to come through a Mid-Eastern Regional bracket that included fast-finishing Notre Dame and Indiana's Big Ten champions. Kentucky breezed to an 89-56 victory over Notre Dame Saturday after the Irish had disposed of Indiana Friday.

Kansas State, ranked No. 3 nationally in the final Associated Press Poll, had little trouble defeating possession-minded Oklahoma State 69-57 in the windup of the Midwest Regional tournament after eliminating mighty Cincinnati Friday. Temple ran its victory string to 25 straight by winning the Eastern Regional, getting past Maryland's surprise team.

In third-place games in the four regional tournaments, Maryland beat Manhattan 59-55, Cincinnati beat Arkansas 57-52, Indiana beat Miami (Ohio) 98-91 and San Francisco beat Idaho State 57-51.

Cincinnati's superb sophomore, Oscar Robertson, set a new NCAA tournament scoring record when he rang up 56 points against Arkansas.

In first round games of Saturday's Garden double-header, Fordham gained a surprisingly easy 83-69 decision over favored St. Francis of Loretto, Pa., and Xavier of Ohio triumphed 95-86 in spite of a 41-point performance by the losers Bob Ellis. Jim Cunningham scored 26 for the slick-passing Fordham team.

Final preparations were made for the forthcoming dance to be held at the Redders Inn this Friday night, March 21. All members are urged to turn out for the affair.

Middleweights Willie Vaughn of Los Angeles and Jimmy Beecham of Washington, D. C., capitalized on the Eddie Machen-Zora Foley postponement. They take over the Wednesday night television spot that had been scheduled for the Heavyweights.

The 160-pounders will meet for the third time within six weeks, this time at the new Capital Arena in Washington (ABC TV, 10 p. m. EST). Vaughn outpointed Beecham Feb. 4 and then lost a decision to him exactly a month later.

Monday is St. Patrick's day so New York welterweights Jimmy Archer and Johnny Gorman are the main events in the 10-round television contest (Dumont, 10 p. m. EST) at New York's St. Nicholas Arena. Both Archer and Gorman are Irish, of course.

Archer, 23, has won two straight this year for a 17-2 record. Gorman, 22, has captured three this year for a 25-7-1 record.

The fighting Dupas boys—the Lightweight contender who expects to get a title shot soon, faces veteran Welterweight Ramon Fuentes of Los Angeles at New Orleans Monday night.

Logart, Akins Elimination Bout Heads Week's Schedule

ISAAC LOGART, Cuba's fast moving contender, and hard-hitting Virgil Akins of St. Louis take over the fist spotlight this week with their semifinal bout in the Welterweight elimination tournament Friday night.

They will meet over the 12-round route at New York's Madison Square Garden (NBC Radio-Television, 10 p. m. EST). The winner will take on Vince Martinez of Paterson, N. J., in a 15-rounder for the title vacated by Carmen Basilio when he won the Middleweight crown. Martinez drew a bye into the final round of the tournament.

Logart, 24, winner of his last three fights and in 15 of his last 17, is a 7-5 choice over his 30-year old rival. Akins has won nine of his last 11 outings, the last two by knockouts over former Welterweight champion Tony DeMarco.

Third Meeting

This is their third meeting. They met in 1955. Akins won the first by split decision while Logart took the second by a good margin.

Logart's record is 52-7-5. He has scored 19 knockouts and been stopped once. Akins' record is 46-17-1, including 26 kayos. He has been stopped twice.

SECOND organizational meeting of the new local drill-pay satellite unit of the Naval Reserve will be held tonight at 7:30.

The unit meets in the quarters of the Naval Reserve Electronic Co. in the Municipal Building, Seventh and Sarah Sts., Stroudsburg.

Lt. Cmdr. J. W. Regan, Commanding Officer of the local electronics company, said last night that he was "very pleased" with the turnout for the first meeting last Monday.

The officer said he hopes for an even greater turnout for tonight's meeting. All former Naval personnel, present Naval Reservists who wish to drill for pay at home instead of traveling to another community on drill nights and young men interested in joining the company for the first time are urged to attend tonight, Regan said.

Pay Routine

From that time on all men who are members of the company will be given one full day's pay for each two-hour drill period they put in at the local quarters. . . . Former members of the Navy or Naval Reserve will have an opportunity to enlist in the highest rating held if they meet all requirements. Others have the opportunity to train and advance in rate in the Reserve as they learn, Regan said.

Burglars Take $5,000 From Safe

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Burglars broke into a city food distributor's warehouse early yesterday and took an estimated $5,000 from a safe.

They gained entry by smashing a skylight. Felix Spatoia, Jr., one of the owners, discovered the theft. He said the company moved into the warehouse only last week.

Clergymen Call For Boycott

WASHINGTON (AP) — Negro clergymen have called for a one-day boycott of downtown stores by Washington's Negroes. Their goal is to open up sales jobs in the stores to Negroes.

If the "no shopping day" set for March 27 fails to change the stores' personnel policy, leaders said yesterday they will turn to other means — possibly a protracted boycott designed to put economic pressure on the merchants.

A committee led by Negro clergymen last week designated March 27 as a day of prayer and no shopping by the city's Negro population.

The Rev. E. Franklin Jackson, chairman of the committee, predicted 90 per cent of Washington's 300,000 Negroes will keep away from the downtown district. They make up about 43 per cent of the District of Columbia's population.

Jackson said "two or three sales girls in two dime stores" comprise the entire Negro sales force in downtown stores which are short of competent sales clerks but refuse to hire trained Negroes.

Hazleton Man Fights Rule

WASHINGTON (AP) — Jack Parisi of Hazleton, Pa., has asked a U.S. District Court judge to prevent his deportation to Italy, contending he did not get a fair hearing before an immigration service officer who ordered his deportation in 1953.

The deportation was ordered on grounds that Parisi, once called a triggerman for the Murder, Inc., gang, could not show good moral character.

Confidential Report

Jack Wasserman, Parasi's attorney, contended Saturday that the hearing officer was influenced by a confidential report on his client.

This contention was denied by William Rafferty, Assistant U.S. District Attorney.

Judge Joseph R. Jackson took the case under advisement.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

FOR MON. MARCH 17, 1958
March 17 to April 15 (Aries) — That just-right attitude will be completely necessary to get along with people as well as to bring about results and effects you desire now. Start strong with prayer.

April 16 to May 15 (Taurus) — Where you find it urgent to make changes do so; but don't permit constant change or a shifting of decisions and processes to hamper what can be good progress. Relax, and enjoy the day.

May 16 to June 21 (Gemini) — Being steady, amiable (to and with right sources, of course) and giving without asking in return are best always, but definitely needed these days. Don't ask too much of anyone's energy.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer) — Your Moon has not been in many better configurations; this is the sort of day that stimulates wise incentive and careful planning. Don't let anything see you to desert sound procedure.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo) — If it is worth doing, it is worth doing the best way you know how. Today has more underneath quality and vitality than seen on surface; you could set the spark for a cheerful turn.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo) — Here is a period for some artful maneuvering, but for careful speech and action, lest you become involved in something that might cancel out earlier good effects.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra) — Give some extra thought to the wholesomeness and good spirits that so many celebrate today. Such attitude could always ease strained relations, improve understanding. Join good fun.

October 24 to November 23 (Scorpio) — Hold back answers or decisions till you have double-checked to ascertain whether you will be correct and factual, too. Some matters may be harder resolving; keep trying.

November 24 to December 23 (Sagittarius) — Note Scorpio, your aspects and inclinations are similar, and you will have to have foresight, discretion and tolerance in adequate doses to advance and get along.

December 24 to January 23 (Capricorn) — Favorable aspects, compared to many now, yet the fact that others will have that "off," maybe "down," feeling, heaves you to think well before speaking or acting. Your best will do.

January 24 to February 19 (Aquarius) — You have better indications from many sources, yet will need tact, understanding. When you display these at difficult times, you make the road easier all around.

February 20 to March 20 (Pisces) — Life for a number of people this day will not be as pleasant unless you show your mettle, withstand unhappy tendencies and lean far to keep good will unpermeated.

YOU ROCK! TODAY — Innately amiable, honest, You like to do neat work and keep things generally tidy. But you may become too fastidious in these very things that should be helpful traits. God has blessed you with a keen, versatile mind; you could be an instructor, language specialist, nurse, doctor (especially general work where you can meet and soothe many), sailor or "fisher" in any undertaking. Have associates of high standards and aims, and never allow discouragement to prevail. Enjoy all the wonderful gifts God has put here.

Mountainhome Firm Featuring New Type Hammer

MOUNTAINHOME—A revolution whose sole weapon is the lowly carpenter's hammer is taking place in this quiet Barrett Township community. It's an industrial revolt. And the hammer is a complete departure from all other kinds previously made.

The tool is called a "Magna-Head Hammer." Because it has a permanent magnet in its head, the "Magna-Head" holds its own nails in place to permit "single-handed nailing." It is a feature of the tool is Royal Line Products Inc., Mountainhome. Its president is Harold Kreck, a sporting-goods store owner and its secretary-treasurer is Harold Bixler, a young engineer.

The plant where the hammers are made is in the cellar of Kreck's sports store on Route 290 in Mountainhome.

"Magna-Head" is the brain child of a Clifton, N. J. inventor named Yervant Kurkjian, according to Kreck. The two men first met some years back while Kurkjian was vacationing in the Poconos and stopped in at Kreck's store.

Over the years they became better friends. One day, when Kreck and a neighbor, Roger Tambella, were talking over an idea they had for a product, the two men decided to take it to Kurkjian and see if he felt it was an idea they could feasibly patent.

Kurkjian looked over the idea and said that he did not feel it was. But, the inventor said, if you are really interested in doing manufacturing work, I'll give you some of my own patents to look over.

"He had a whole closet full of things he's patented," Kreck says now. "We brought back several ideas and sketches. We decided the magnetic hammer was simple enough and practical enough to be marketable. So we went to work on it."

The workshop was set up in the cellar. Starting at slow production speed, the company now puts out between 1,700 and 1,800 hammers each month. To begin making the endeavor really pay off, Kreck believes, the company will have to produce about 100,000 yearly. But that's still in the future, and Royal Line isn't rushing things.

"Right now we're interested in turning out the best product we possibly can. It isn't enough to depend on the uniqueness of the tool. We want it to be the best hammer on the market, in addition to the most advanced and unusual," he said.

The "Magna-Head" is now being made in five major models. It retails from $3.69 to $5. It is made either with a standard head or a ripping (claw) head.

The hammer's most unusual feature—the magnet—is 3/16ths of an inch in diameter and a half-inch long. It is made of Alnico Steel and is guaranteed to maintain its magnetic strength for the life of the hammer. All magnets used in the tools are given rigid testing before they are put in the hammer head. They must pull four ounces or better in order to be accepted, Kreck said.

All styles of heads used on the hammers are made of the same alloy steel and are tempered exactly the same. The head and the nail-holding groove are forged at the same time and all heads are heat-treated, tempered and polished. The hole for the magnet is drilled on all heads before they are tempered.

Magnets are fitted in the heads in a nylon inset or bushing which holds them securely in place, prevents loss of magnetism to the head of the hammer and acts as a shock absorber when the hammer is in use.

"Magna-Head" is already attracting strong attention on the national level among industrial magazines as well as users, Kreck said. It is being billed as "the first basic improvement on the claw hammer in centuries."

Congress To Investigate Navy's Woes

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy's woes with the Vanguard satellite rocket will get intensive congressional scrutiny within the next few weeks.

Rep. Durham (D-NC), in charge of the investigation, indicated Sunday it won't be sympathetic, but will be designed mainly to get what technical advantage there may be in learning why the rocket has failed thus far to function properly.

Durham heads a special House Armed Services subcommittee on missiles and space projects. It is one of six set up to continue, in specialized fields, the broad investigation of the military establishment which the committee conducted in January and February.

Missile Program
Durham said "we are determined to look into all of the trouble spots" of the missile program, and he agreed that Vanguard was one.

"It is beginning to look as though it may never get off the ground," he said.

Last Wednesday, after a series of failures, the Navy temporarily called off its efforts to launch a Vanguard satellite rocket from Cape Canaveral, Fla. One Vanguard vehicle blew up on its launching stand Dec. 6 and another broke apart a minute after takeoff Feb. 5.

Meanwhile, the Army is preparing to launch a third Explorer satellite with its rival Jupiter-C rocket.

Durham said hearings will not be held immediately, but that meanwhile he hopes to obtain the services of a technically qualified director for the investigation.

New Explorer May Rise Within Week

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new Explorer satellite will be launched within about a week, Army Secretary Wilber M. Brucker said yesterday.

Brucker, interviewed on ABC-TV's "College News Conference," also forecast a successful shot at the moon in "not too many, many months."

He also said the United States now has a rocket motor capable of placing in orbit a "very large" satellite, and predicted a satellite carrying a television camera will be launched within a year.

The satellite, Explorer III, will be equipped with a new recording device believed to be an improvement over anything the Russians now possess, he added.

Data Storage
The device will store data gathered on the satellite's whirled about the world, Brucker said, and transmit it in response to radio signal from a ground observer station.

Satellites thus far launched broadcast their data constantly throughout their orbits until transmitter batteries were exhausted.

Brucker said the new device will give Explorer III's transmitter more volume and a longer life than Explorer I, the United States' first satellite. Although still in orbit, it has ceased transmission. Explorer II apparently never went into orbit.

Asked whether he agreed with Secretary of State Dulles that Russia "will probably beat us to getting to the moon with one of these rockets," Brucker said:

"It may be that they are far enough along so that they can get one that will go to the moon. But they will have to hustle if they get there first."

McClelland To File For Governor

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Dr. William D. McClelland, Allegheny County coroner, said last night he plans to file as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor.

Dr. McClelland, a Pittsburgh dentist, said Ralph S. Smith Jr., a Pittsburgh attorney, will file the papers in Harrisburg today after 9 a.m.

Second Attempt

It will be McClelland's second attempt to win the Democratic gubernatorial nomination. He ran against Gov. Leader in 1954 and lost the nomination by 65,636 votes.

The Pittsburgh dentist said he will not attempt to form a slate of statewide candidates.

Allegheny County Prothonotary David B. Roberts a McClelland backer, said there are several pro-McClelland men campaigning for Legislature and they all are expected to work together.

Huge Party For Veteran

DETROIT (AP)—Korean War veteran Eugene Dougherty had his first birthday party yesterday—a party so big it all but pushed Dougherty, his wife and 17-month-old son out of his small East Side apartment.

Dougherty says he has never had a birthday party. Two weeks ago he decided to throw one himself. He invited 40 guests including customers from his struggling window washing business. Nobody came.

The suburban Hamtramck Blue Star Mothers chapter saw to it that today's party was different. Headed by chapter president, Mrs. Joseph Skopowski, some 25 mothers poured into the Dougherty apartment. By the time the last arrived, the Dougherty kitchen overflowed with Polish sausage, sauer kraut, cheese cakes and a big birthday cake bearing 23 candles.

Dougherty's wife Grace, 19, and the baby, a child by a previous marriage, huddled on a sofa in the living room trying to keep out of the way of the sprawling affair.

Venus Takes Appearance Of Spaceship Around Moon

WASHINGTON (AP)—Thousands of Americans who gazed into the sky early yesterday may have thought they were seeing a spaceship anchored off the moon.

"Wasn't, though. It was merely the planet Venus getting a bit chummy with the moon."

About once a month Venus and the moon seem to get close to each other, astronomically speaking. In these instances Venus, which is a bit smaller than the earth, looks like a bright star dogging the moon.

Yesterday morning, the two appeared closer together than usual. Dr. William Markowitz, director of the time service of the U. S. Naval Observatory, characterized it as a "rare phenomenon."

"I haven't seen anything like it in my 30 years of observing," he said.

Report

Dr. Markowitz reported later that the two were in conjunction—that is, at the point where they appeared closest together—at precisely 6 a.m. EST, according to the observatory's computations.

At the moment of conjunction, Dr. Markowitz said Venus was about one degree south of the moon—a distance about twice the apparent diameter of the moon.

How close were Venus and the moon to each other—really? Well, consider that the moon is 240,000 miles from the earth, while Venus this morning was some 50 million miles from the earth.

At that rate, Venus and the moon are hardly kissing cousins, no matter what earthlings observed.

License Sales Set Record

UTW Elects New Slate Of Officials

WASHINGTON (AP)—The cleanup convention of the scandal-scarred United Textile Workers (UTW) elected a new slate of officers yesterday, returning the union to the good graces of the AFL-CIO.

Elected president without opposition was George Baldanzi of Paterson, N. J., a Teamsters Union (TWU) member. Baldanzi said he would sever all connections with the Teamsters.

The cleanup convention was ordered by the AFL-CIO, which last Fall appointed a monitor to oversee the operations of the UTM. The alternative would have been expulsion from the merged labor federation.

Negotiations
Before electing officers, the 337 delegates representing about 40,000 UTM members adopted a resolution encouraging continued merger negotiations with the TWU.

The UTW's troubles with the AFL-CIO began last September after then President Anthony Valente and Secretary-Treasurer Lloyd Klenert testified before the Senate Rackets Committee about their financial manipulations.

Other new officers elected were:

Fishing Boat Caught In Lake Erie Ice

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—A Canadian fishing vessel, listing badly after developing a hole, was caught in the ice off the Canadian shore at the eastern end of Lake Erie yesterday.

The Coast Guard said the Colby, from Dunville, Ont., had radioed for assistance but reported that the three men aboard were in no immediate danger.

Near Buffalo
The ship was stranded about four miles off Lapp Point near Dunville and about 40 miles west of Buffalo, the Coast Guard said.

The Coast Guard cutter Objibwa, from Buffalo, was unable to get through the ice.

A second cutter, the Kaw, was ordered out from Erie, Pa., in hope of reaching the scene from the west through clear water.

The extent and nature of damage to the Colby were not known here.

The Coast Guard said the Colby was accompanied by the Charles R. also from Dunville, but had no report on that ship.
